TEXAS BRIEFS.

Special to the Eagle.
Calvert, Texas, June 4.—Mr. A. J. Buckley, who was seriously hurt by the bursting of the mill rock in Gibson's gin last Saturday, is improving very rapidly.

San Antonio, Texas, June 4.—Sam Cohen, proprietor of the Bexar Business Bureau, was struck by an automobile while crossing Commerce street and badly bruised, although his injuries are not serious.

Cameron, Texas, June 4.—The April term of the District Court adjourned this week and Judge Scott has gone home. This was not a very busy term though considerable business was done. A number of cases will be appealed to higher courts.

San Antonio, Texas, June 4.—Philip Haag of Seattle yesterday filed suit against the Westlake Construction Co. for $25,000 for the death of his son, Frank Haag, who was injured May 24 while working on the building and died a few days later. It is claimed that the accident was caused by a defective pulley.

Taylor, Texas, June 4.—J. B. Hargis and George W. Payne, ex-confederate veterans and members of the Albert Sidney Johnston Camp of Taylor, upon whom crosses of honor were recently bestowed by ladies of the local chapter of daughters of the Confederacy, will leave Saturday night for Memphis Tenn., to attend the National Ex-Confederate Reunion and recite again the campfire stories of "those days that tried men's souls."

Temple, Texas, June 4.—Annual memorial services in honor of the Confederate dead were held here yesterday at the First Baptist church under the auspices of Lavinia Porter Talley Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, assisted by the members of Granbury Camp No. 1223, United Confederate Veterans of this city. At the conclusion of the ceremonies at the church the march was taken up to the cemetery, where the graves of the honored dead were decorated with garlands of flowers.

REV. PIPKIN RETURNED.

Rev. J. J. Pipkin, field secretary of the Texas Women's College, returned last night from a trip of some weeks through south and east Texas in the interest of the school he represents. He reports fine crop prospects all through the territory he has traversed and the people very hopeful. He has been warmly received by the people everywhere and believes a most friendly sentiment in favor of his school is crystallizing through all this section of the state. He is confident of great things for the college next session. Rev. Pipkin's family will arrive tonight from Huntsville and they will occupy the W. S. Howell cottage.

SENIOR CLASS BANQUET.

A. and M. Graduates Will Enjoy Fine Spread at Exchange Hotel.

The senior class of the A. and M. College, comprising forty-four of the stalwart and brainy sons of Texas and one from Mississippi, are in the city and will enjoy their annual banquet at the Exchange hotel tonight. These banquets are occasions of great rejoicing for the students from year to year.

It is a kind of farewell, and is the last time they will all be together, and to themselves before the close of the session. As they converse around the festal board and recount the prominent events of the four years of their association, their successes, their defeats, their seasons of rejoicing, their "rainy days," and all things that go to make up the true college life, there is naturally a vein of sadness mingled with their pleasure.

It is their "good bye," the session is soon to close and the duties of real life will bear them away from old A. and M. along different paths, and the pleasures of their last night together in the annual banquet, will linger long in memory as one of the oases in life.

Following is the menu for this evening:

MENU

Soup Cream of Tomato
Olives and Pickles
Red Snapper Tartar Sauce
French Fried Potatoes
Toasted Crackers
Wine
Fried Chicken Stuffed Pepper
Green Peas Stuffed Potatoes
Ice Cream Assorted Cakes
Coffee
Cigars and Cigarettes

There is no formal toast list, but doubtless many impromptu toasts appropriate to the time and the occasion will be proposed and responded to by the various members present.

Following are the officers of the class: D. M. Shearer, president; W. H. Furneaux, vice president; R. D. Huckabee, secretary treasurer; G. M. English, sergeant-at-arms; D. B. Harris, athletic manager, and M. H. Welner, class historian.

OWLS & ELKS 3.

The Owls and Elks crossed bats again yesterday afternoon on the Academy grounds in the second game of the season between the two teams. Again the Owls were victorious, the final score being 8 to 3. The Elks, however, attribute their defeat to the absence of several of their best players, which so crippled them that they could not make the showing they otherwise would have made.

CONLEE MADE A ROUND-UP.

The colored contingent on Cedar creek have been getting obstreperous of late to such an extent that Sheriff Conlee found it necessary to make a little roundup in that territory yesterday. He arrested Arthur Phillips for an assault on Jesse Kelley with his knife, and took his bond for his appearance before the proper tribunal to answer to the charge of an aggravated assault.

Robert Searles was also arrested and placed under bond for an aggravated assault. Searles took a fancy shot at his wife, but missed her and the ball went through the floor.

Two young bucks by the name of Blue were arrested for disturbing the peace and they plead guilty before Justice Edge and paid their fines.

APPLICATIONS POURING IN

Room Will Be Scarce at A. and M. Coming Session. Governors Veto A Burning Shame.

Special to the Eagle.

College Station, Texas, June 4.—"I would like to attend the A. and M. College summer school, in order to prepare myself for entrance of the regular session in September, but I see that the governor has vetoed the new dormitory and there will probably be no room for new comers. If so I would like to be advised so as to make other arrangements."

Such was a letter received at the A. and M. College of Texas, from a young man who wants to attend this college next session. The applications are coming in fast. The names are being enrolled as fast as received and every effort will be made to accommodate all who do apply for admittance. The school will be able to accommodate between 600 and 700. Thirty-eight tents were occupied by students on the campus during the session which is just now about to close, but some of these tents are beyond use and if they are to be replaced it will require an outlay of money which the College can not afford. The session just closing has been more successful than any in the history of the College and the officers hoped to have more space for next year. It had been arranged to commence work on the new dormitory at once, had the governor allowed the appropriation to stand, and it would have been ready at any rate by the Christmas holidays. After the legislature provided for the dormitory, believing that the governor would let it stand, J. S. Dean of the department of architecture and drawing was summoned to College to commence work on the plans, and he arrived just in time to hear of the veto. He was on a leave of absence taking a post graduate course at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Although the board of directors requested the legislature did not make any provision for additional fire protection at the College. More hose and more ladders are needed, but there is no fund that can be used for the purchase.

SAILING RACE TO BERMUDA.

Special to the Eagle.

New York, June 4.—Seven yachts designed solely for along-shore sailing will venture far out into the Atlantic tomorrow on the fourth of the ocean races to the coral isles of the Bermudas. Ten o'clock tomorrow morning is the hour fixed for the beginning of the race.

The start this year is to be from the Atlantic Yacht Club house at Sea Gate, instead of from Marblehead, as the starting point of last year's race, and the course therefore will be about 35 miles shorter, giving the yachts 660 sea miles to cover before reaching the finish off St. David's head light.

Such a test, as has already been shown by the three previous Bermuda races for sailing craft, as well as the across the Atlantic contest in 1905 requires skilful navigation, astute seamanship, well-rigged and stoutly-sparred vessels, and Yankee grit to hold on until the limit of safety is all but reached.

The yachts entered to compete this year for oceanic honors are the Amorita, 99 feet; Iroquois, 95 feet; Crusader, 97 feet; Margaret, 93 feet; March-jones; 67 feet; Restless 38 feet; and Tamerlane, 38 feet.

The contest is under the joint management of the Atlantic and the Royal Bermuda yacht clubs, with Horace F. Boucher, chairman of the regatta committee of the former club, as the moving spirit.

The first race to Bermuda was sailed in 1906. Three boats started—the Lila, the Gauntlet and the Tamerlane. The last named yacht won, making the race in 5 days and 6 hours. The prize was a cup offered by Sir Thomas Lipton, and the Brooklyn Yacht Club handled the race. In the second race twelve boats started in two classes, and the winners were the Dervish and the Lila. Last year the race was sailed from Marblehead under the flag of the Corinthian Yacht Club, and six boats started—two from Philadelphia, two from New York and two from Boston. The Verona, the smallest schooner, finished first, beating the whole fleet. The first class prize went to the Dervish.

Last call for moth preventives. If you haven't put your furs away yet don't wait a day longer, but get a package of moth balls at Emmel & Maloney's. 154

DON'T SWALLOW DRUGS TO CURE CATARRH.

Hyomel (pronounced High-ome) is a germ killing vapor of air which when breathed either through the mouth or nose will kill catarrh germs and soothe and heal the inflamed and mutilated membrane.

Hyomel is such a powerful germ destroyer that it penetrates every fold and crevice of the mucous membrane of the nose and throat. And it kills the catarrh germs because it gets where those health destroyers are.

Hyomel is pleasant to use; it is made from concentrated extract of pine and eucalyptus taken from the trees in inland Australia where catarrh was never known.

Breathe in this pleasant, healing yet germ killing air (you'll like to use Hyomel through a small hard rubber inhaler that comes with each outfit and relief will come quickly.

Hyomel is guaranteed by E. J. Jenkins to cure catarrh or money back; it gives most wonderful relief to consumptives. A complete outfit which includes an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomel and simple instructions for use costs $1.00 and extra bottles if afterward needed costs 50 cents. Leading druggists everywhere sell Hyomel.
